

Dear Parents/Guardians,

My name is Maria Kane and my role at Craig High School is the Talented and Gifted (TAG) building coordinator. I am looking forward to being available to help support students, families, and staff. I understand that this year is going to be one of many firsts and am available to help as the need arises during this school year as we are in flux. I look forward to getting to know your student and continuing my work with them. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Maria Kane

What Is the TAG Program at Craig High School?

The primary enrichment tools at Craig High School are the wide array of course offerings (including honors, acceleration options, and AP courses) and extra-curricular opportunities. In addition, I am a resource to colleagues, capable students, and their families. The advocate is another resource along with counselors, academic learning coach, and classroom teachers who assist capable students. In previous years, TAG students have participated in college campus tours and an 11th grade TAG leadership conference at UW-Whitewater. At this time, all of those activities are on hold, but looking at alternative virtual options if available as the year progresses.

- This year the Craig TAG program will be using email and website updating to disseminate information out to parents and families.
